Connie Shirley/ Robert Turner

Members of WAS Field and Finds Team

The Sompting EPIC Project - Landscape and People

In 2020, WAS were invited by OART to fieldwalk and then excavate on the EPIC site in Sompting. The EPIC project included farmland being converted to a country park and a new course established for the stream running through the area. The struck flints recovered give a clue to the landscape and how it was used in prehistory"

Con Ainsworth Memorial Lecture

Mark Roberts

Archaeologist and Principle Research Fellow of UCL
Institute of Archaeology

Excavation and research in the Goodwood Area, from the Lower Palaeolithic to Post-Medieval: an update

"I would be both delighted and honoured to give the Con Ainsworth Memorial Lecture. I don't know if you are aware of this but it was Con who started me off in archaeology whilst I was a sixth form student. I was his gardener in Goring and it was he who convinced me to start and stay in archaeology rather than pursuing a career in the armed forces. He and Ena often invited me and my team over to theirs for supper when we were working at Boxgrove during the long winters in the early part of the project; I cannot tell you how much we looked forward to these trips out"
